Heavy Vote Is Expected On Tuesday

Next Tuesday will see the conclusion of the great battle at the polls, except as concerns the election officials who will have a prolonged job counting the vote on the numerous candidates and propositions.

Seldom has a more confused situation confronted the voter than that offered by the party tickets this year. Nothing could show more clearly the futility of party alignments on state offices.

The Republican ticket is led by Richardson, a dry candidate for governor, and Johnson, a wet candidate for senator. The Democratic ticket is headed by Woolwine, a wet candidate for governor, and Pearson, who claims to be dry but whose sincerity has been questioned.

Richardson's whole campaign for governor has been based upon a plea for economy and efficiency in the state administration. He refused to be diverted to other issues, either for denial of acrimony. Woolwine claims Richardson is a reactionary, and the Richardson supporters refuse to admit that Woolwine ever gave any active indication of being a progressive. As a matter of fact, Richardson was one of the pioneers in the progressive movement among California Republicans. Woolwine has the support of the Hearst papers, but most of the Democratic papers of the state seem to have taken him at his word in saying it is essentially a non-partisan contest, and have gone over to Richardson. Woolwine has undoubtedly won some wet Republicans to his banner, but has likewise alienated some dry Democrats. So there you are. There seems to be no good reason for forecasting anything less than a normal Republican victory.

In the congressional campaign, the situation may be said to be about as usual. Congressman Lineberger has the regular Republican support, while former Congressman Randall has a large personal and ultra-dry following which is so large as to keep the organization constantly worried. His three victories have convinced them that he is not to be taken lightly. Randall accuses Lineberger of being actively supported by the wets, and Lineberger says he voted consistently dry in Congress and if the wets are supporting him it is in the face of his dry record and declarations. Randall has the endorsement of the labor organizations. Lineberger is registered Republican and has the Republican nomination only. Randall is registered as a Prohibitionist and has also the Democratic nomination.

A Busy Week

Voters who wish to take advantage of every opportunity to inform themselves on candidates and issues have had a busy week. Monday night the supporters of the Water and Power Act held a meeting in the club house which is reported in another column. Tuesday afternoon, Randall and National Chairman Hinshaw of the Prohibition party visited Sierra Madre. Mr. Hinshaw spoke in support of Mr. Randall and the latter devoted his address to the Prohibition Enforcement Act. Jesse R. Oastler, local candidate for Congress at the primaries, announced that he would vote for Mr. Randall because he believed him the best candidate considered from the standpoint of the war veterans.

On Wednesday Congressman Lineberger was unable to reach Sierra Madre according to schedule, but two other speakers addressed the few people who happened to be on one of the streets during the lunch hour, in behalf of him, and the rest of the ticket.

Wednesday evening the Woman's Club held a very interesting open meeting for discussion of several propositions on the ballot. Dr. Forbes of The Villa and Dr. Lockwood, of Pasadena spoke for and against the Osteopathic act respectively. Mr. Bergen of Los Angeles explained a number of the other propositions, doing his best to cover the arguments on both sides although on questions involving the public ownership principle he admitted he could see only the favorable side.

This evening another meeting will be held at which there will be a debate on No. 30 the question of putting all street railway franchises in the hands of the state railroad commission. Several other questions will also be discussed. The public is invited.

Hart Property Proposed For Municipal Park

Acquisition of the J. J. Hart property at the corner of Central and Hermosa for city park purposes was discussed at Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce luncheon. The matter was presented upon request of Chairman Sadler by H. C. Parker, who is associated with Edwin G. Hart, agent for the property.

Mr. Parker said the property comprising a rectangle of about three acres could be purchased for the city at a price of $16,000, with $1,000 down and ten years time for the balance. The price he regarded as extremely reasonable, considering location and especially the trees growing on the property which afford a park practically ready made.

Reconstruction of one of the buildings on the property for city hall or other municipal purposes had been planned by an architect who estimated the expense of making a very substantial and presentable building at about $4,000.

Following brief remarks by some of the members present, it was suggested that the whole company walk the block down the street to inspect the property, which was done. All agreed that the opportunity was one deserving most careful consideration at once. Many were very enthusiastic over the project.

WIDE ENDORSEMENT FOR JUDGE McLUCAS

"Basing my statement on a county-wide survey of the situation, and the widespread endorsements received, I believe that Judge Victor R. McLucas will receive one of the biggest votes ever cast for a judge of the Superior Court."

This was the declaration this week of C. C. Montgomery, prominent Los Angeles attorney who is chairman of the executive committee which has in charge the campaign of Judge Victor R. McLucas. He is endorsed by Mayor Mitchell and other local people.

"Judge McLucas has received the unqualified support of county and city bar associations, women's organizations, non-partisan clubs and men and women who occupy important places in the civic bodies of the county," said Mr. Montgomery.

JEWELRY STORE

ADDS TO STOCK

Tucker's Jewelry and Art Shop has taken on a changed appearance with the installation of the new art department. A new booth has been built in the store, specially arranged for the display of goods in the gift department, such as paintings, baskets, decorative novelties, most of which have been produced by Miss Eleanor M. Tucker, whose talent is well known. Mr. Tucker has added a fine line of leather goods, purses, handbags, etc., to his stock. He has also added materially to his jewelry stock in anticipation of the holiday trade. The tasteful and attractive window displays of the Tucker store are something the proprietors have a right to be proud of.

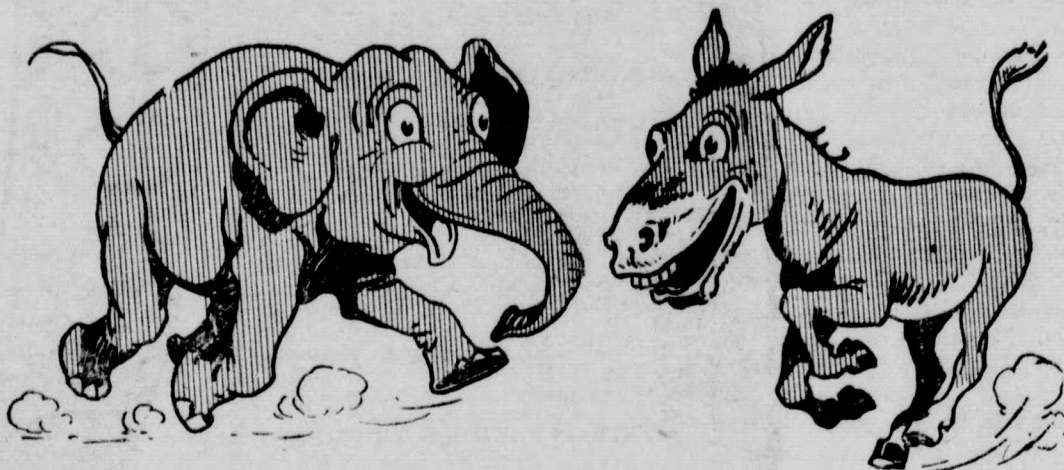

ADAMS ORANGE RANCH SOLD

The north twenty-six acres of the orange ranch of Mrs. Addie Adams has been sold to Gordon Maddock and F. R. Miller of Monrovia. The property lies within the city of Arcadia, and lies on the north side of Central, along Santa Anita avenue, running through to Grand View. The consideration is given at slightly under $40,000. The grove is planted mostly to Valencia and is said to be practically frostless. The seventeen acres lying to the south of Central avenue on which the ranch house is situated, was retained by Mrs. Adams.

MASONIC DINNER

DRAW A CROWD

The combination attraction of a good dinner and an address by Judge Dana R. Weller, Past Grand Master, drew one of the largest crowds of the year Tuesday night at the Masonic lodge. The dinner was prepared by men of the entertainment committee and met with unqualified approval. Judge Weller's address on Masonic law was an authoritative discourse which was not only informing but highly entertaining.

RARIN' TO GO!

Rumors About Baldwin Ranch

Possibility of Opening New Road and Subdividing a Portion Excite Gossip

Announcement that Mrs. Anita Baldwin would not oppose the opening of a thoroughfare through the Santa Anita Ranch, extending Colorado street from Pasadena to Arcadia has started clouds of rumors through the air. The proposed highway would parallel the Foothill boulevard on the south of the Santa Fe tracks.

The terms on which Mrs. Baldwin would permit the road to go through have been announced. It is not known whether the right-of-way would be donated or whether full value would be asked for the land. It might prove to be a very expensive enterprise, although Mrs. Baldwin's liberality in other matters gives grounds for hoping otherwise.

Subdivision of the ranch property is one of the most persistent rumors accompanying the report. It has been pointed out, however, that by the terms of the will of the late E. J. Baldwin, certain portions of the old Santa Anita homestead must be kept intact.

Live Stock Sold

Sale of practically all of the blooded livestock on the ranch has been going on for some time, and the help required to care for it has been discharged. Mrs. Baldwin is spending a considerable portion of her time in the East and apparently does not care to carry on that phase of the business at long range. That was the reason assigned for her recent resignation as the head of the county society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of which she had been the executive head and chief financial supporter for several years, doing a wonderful lot of work.

DR. G. S. BOVARD

NOW PRACTICING

Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard, well known to many Sierra Madre people, has begun the practice of medicine and will share the office of Dr. R. H. Mackerras at 8 North Baldwin avenue. Dr. Bovard is a graduate of the liberal arts department of the University of Southern California. He began his medical course at the University of Pennsylvania and took the last two years of the course at Stanford, graduating with honors in 1921. He was one of two successful candidates out of 150 who took a competitive examination for internships in the Los Angeles County Hospital. He completed a year's work there on July 1, after which he was successful in passing the state board of medical examiners. Dr. Bovard has resided in Sierra Madre at several different periods, making his home with his aunt, Miss Alice Tufts of 159 West Montecito.

MAKES SWEEPER TALK

C. O. Gaffney, an expert representing the Royal Vacuum Sweeper, has been demonstrating the machines at the Sierra Madre Electric Co., authorized local agents, the past week. Mr. Gaffney can make his cleaner do all the stunts known, including picking up ten silver dollars. If you haven't any silver dollars you want picked up by your carpet sweeper, it will pick up any other kind of dirt that happens to lie around.

WATER-POWER ACT IS LAUDED

At a meeting for the discussion of the Water and Power Act, held in the Woman's Club House on Monday night a clever analysis of the talk against the act by Mr. Mack was presented by Mrs. Beers, with special complimentary reference to the gentleman's agile sidestepping when direct questions were asked. The existence of the Los Angeles aqueduct furnishing both domestic and irrigation water, as well as power showed the inaccuracy of his principal statements.

Mrs. Snell followed with extracts from the last report from the Ontario Hydroelectric commission, showing rate reductions from twelve cents per kilowatt hour to one and one-fourth cents, and the great increase in manufactures due to cheap power. Reference was made to the statements before the tariff commission that Hydro-rates being one-half in Ontario, New York manufacturers must move across or have tariff protection, resulting in increased cost to consumers. No tax increases had resulted.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Stromberg, mining engineer, described the publicly-owned electric works, established more than thirty years ago in his country with 700,000 horsepower, increased to over two million horsepower. He stated that every village of a thousand inhabitants or more owns its own electric distributing plants, with rates to consumers, one-half cent per kilowatt hour.

Senator Carr of Pasadena, in a careful outline of the act, showed how the existence of state systems in the field, competing with the private companies, would reduce and stabilize rates, and check the growth in power of the vicious political machine of the corporations, in this campaign reaching every hamlet in the state. He demonstrated that economy and efficiency prevailed in the publicly owned works, as against the excessive expenditures of the private companies in construction and salaries. The latter operate in reality on a cost plus basis—the more they spend the more they can charge in rates.

He showed that the charge "too much power in the hands of five men" was unjustified, and that the issuing of bonds from time to time to make loans for the cities and towns on contracts, was safeguarded by checks and audits. He urged the adoption of the act to enable towns to combine and borrow funds from the state to establish flood control and develop water, and to be ready to finance the necessary transmission lines to get power for Southern California from the federal works at Boulder Canyon in Arizona.

Mr. Topping stated that the high price of water in Sierra Madre was largely due to high power rates for pumping. He urged the development of storage facilities to increase the amount of gravity water.

The meeting adjourned after Mrs. Milton Steinberger announced that the Ford Company had chosen Los Angeles for its Pacific Coast factory, because of the low municipal power rates.

Frank M. Smith of 60 Mariposa avenue has received word of the death of his nephew, Paul Lincoln, at Bristol, Pa. He was a brother of Roger Lincoln, who spent two years in Sierra Madre with his uncle.

Bank Change Takes Effect

Savings Bank Takes Over the Entire Business of the First National

Being succeeded by the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, the First National Bank closes its business at noon on Saturday after sixteen years of operation. The business will be carried on in the same quarters and there will be no apparent change, so far as the public is concerned.

The bank's personnel will remain unchanged except for a slight shifting of officers. H. E. Allen, who has been the active manager ever since he purchased control three years ago is president of the Savings Bank, with C. S. Kersting as vice president. W. H. Ingraham is cashier. The directors remain the same, including F. H. Hartman, C. W. Yerxa and C. W. Forman.

All checking accounts and business of the First National Bank are taken over by the commercial department of the savings bank. All checks written by customers against deposits in the First National Bank will, of course, be honored by the savings bank.

The change from the national to the state banking system marks an important step in the development of business in Sierra Madre. The greatly increased capital and surplus of the new bank, and its ability to make realty loans and handle savings accounts on a more satisfactory basis should prove of great advantage to the community. Facilities will now be provided for which many people had to go out of town before.

The $49,000 paid up capital and surplus funds are apportioned as follows between the departments: Commercial department, $25,000 capital and $5,000 surplus; Savings department, $15,000 capital and $4,000 surplus.

ANOAKIA KENNELS TAKEN OVER

Chris Shuttleworth Will Continue to Manage Them on His Own Account

Chris Shuttleworth has leased the plant and equipment of the Anokia Kennels, belonging to Mrs. Anita Baldwin and will continue to manage on his own account the business of which he has been manager ever since it was started by Mrs. Baldwin.

Mr. Shuttleworth has acquired some of the best of the dogs owned by Mrs. Baldwin. He already owned several very fine specimens and starts with a very fine showing of English Bulldogs, Airedales etc., including some which he purchased for Mrs. Baldwin while on his last trip to England.

In addition to his own dogs, Mr. Shuttleworth will accept at the kennels other high class canine stock for boarding or conditioning. He will not operate a dog hospital, taking nothing but approved healthy stock.

As manager of the Baldwin and other kennels, as a much-sought judge of kennel events and as editor and publisher of the monthly Kennel Advocate, Mr. Shuttleworth is well known among dog fanciers all over the country. He will be assured of the cordial interest of a great many friends in his independent venture.

The Ancient Priscillas were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. J. G. Blumer on Tuesday afternoon.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Through the courtesy of the Southern California Edison Company, and the Sierra Madre Telephone Company, the "Information Leaflet" of the American Red Cross has been sent to all the customers of these institutions in the city along with current bills. This gives a very general distribution to the folder which contains a concise statement of the activities and achievements of the Red Cross, and of its expenditure of the vast sum of approximately $12,500,000.00 for the year ending June 30th, 1922.

The budget for the present year calls for the sum of $9,739,872.47, which is to be raised through the Roll Call which begins November 11th. Of this over three million dollars is to be expended for the benefit of disabled ex-service men and women to whom this country owes a debt that can never be repaid.

Mayor Mitchell has assumed the burden and responsibility of conducting the Roll Call in Sierra Madre and he has been assured the earnest cooperation of all the churches and civic organizations. This year's slogan is "Every American Everywhere a member of the Red Cross" which means that we are all called upon to contribute one dollar to Red Cross work.

Headquarters will be at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, and out citizens are requested to call there and make their contributions. Let us keep Sierra Madre at the top of the list in membership and financial support.

BIBLICAL DRAMA

MONDAY EVENING

The wonderful four-act drama "In the Shadow of the Cross" will be presented next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, November 6th, at St. Rita's Auditorium. To judge from the great number of seats already reserved during the last two days the people of Sierra Madre will again be in the front ranks of art lovers.

It is a rare treat for our city to witness such a high class drama of a purely biblical non-denominational nature, interwoven with the most charming traits of human character, when interpreted by a company like the "Wright California Players." The moderate prices are 50 cents for general admission and 75 cents for reserved seats, for sale at Jones' Music Store.

After the drama a two-act comedy will be given. Between the acts Mrs. C. B. Klunk and Mr. Oscar Rasbach, both well known, will deliver vocal and instrumental numbers.

Mr. Wayne Soper, Superintendent of public schools in Eagle, Nebraska, says "The Wright California Players played in 'In the Shadow of the Cross' with remarkable success. We believe every community ought to see and hear this wonderful play, based as it is on Biblical history and embodying a plot most fascinating and tragic."

SETTLING BASIN NOW COMPLETED

Important Addition to Water Department
Equipment Will Soon
Be Ready for Use

Contractor Harvey H. Steinberger has completed the concrete work on the 700,000 gallon reservoir and settling basin at the city pumping plant on East Central. The reservoir is square, with sloping sides and the bottom slightly dished. Seams have been made waterproof with Aqua-tight compound.

Much difficulty has been encountered in the past as a result of sand brought up from the wells and pumped directly into the mains. Leaky faucets and defective meters often resulted. Water pumped from the wells will be discharged directly into the sand box and then run into the main reservoir, where it will again stand a time before being pumped into the mains by the booster pump. Water Superintendent Henderson is highly elated at the completion of the cement work, and the roof will be added at once.

NEW LICENSES TO BE BLACK AND WHITE

Black and white will be the colors for the 1923 automobile license plates.
The new plates have been adopted by the state motor vehicle department and are now being manufactured.
The field will be black and the numbers white. The numbers are equally divided, with "Cal. 23" between them.
The white makes a very attractive plate and, unfortunately for the speed violinist, is declared to be the easiest plate for officers to read that has been hung to the radiator and tire rack of the California automobile for years.

Some of Those 30 Propositions

A good many people for some reason or other have asked me for an opinion on various measures among the thirty appearing on the ballot, as they have done in years past. Without any particular claim for authority, here are opinions on some of them. Nobody is urged to vote my way because I do.

Obviously, it is impossible to discuss these measures at length. The conclusions have not been reached without considerable study and thought, but the reasons must be expressed in the fewest possible words.

1—Veterans' Validating Act, and 3, the Veteran's Welfare Bond act, are companion measures carrying bond issues the borough system of government for sections of large provide for lending to veterans the credit of the state to enable them to acquire homes. A lift, not a gift. Vote yes on both.

2—Prohibition Enforcement act. Absolutely necessary for support of law and order, regardless of one's opinion on prohibition. All other states but one have adopted enforcement acts. Vote yes.

4—Land Settlement Bond act. The bonds will be paid by settlers to whom state credit is loaned to enable them to acquire farms. The experiment has worked well so far and should be continued. Vote yes.

5—State Housing Act. Contains the questionable "shingle joker." Leading authorities differ. Vote no and let the legislature try to frame the act more satisfactorily.

6—Title Insurance. Appears to have the purpose of making the title insurance system more readily available for smaller counties, where it is now said to be handicapped. Vote yes.

8—Designed to prevent the absorption of small cities by large cities against the will of a majority of voters. Vote yes.

9—Municipal Charters. Framed to make more workable the borough system of government for sections of large cities, giving a measure of home rule to remote communities. Vote yes.

10 and 11—Taxation and Regulation of Publicly Owned Utilities. Obviously framed as an attack on the idea of the municipal ownership of public utilities and to hamper such enterprises. Vote no.

12—State Budget. Vote yes in the interest of better business administration.

13—Judges' Salaries. Flaws in the wording of the act have caused some of the superior court judges to ask for defeat of this act so that it can be correctly framed by the next legislature.

14—Local Taxation. Framed to remedy certain injustices and no opposing argument is offered.

15—State Taxation. Equalizing corporation taxes paid to the state. No opposing argument offered. Vote yes.

16 and 20—Chiropractic and Osteopathic acts. I am not opposed to these systems of healing, and believe if they are permitted to practice they should have their own examining boards. However, these acts provide for certain educational requirements supposedly identical with portions at least of that required for a medical degree. While the time required may be equal, it has not been shown that the quality of instruction is equal to that of the standard medical schools. Moreover, the Osteopathic board would have power to grant physician and surgeon licenses, which seems illogical. I shall vote no on both.

17 and 18—Use of Streams, and Municipal Public Works. Intended to remove possible barriers to public development, though not involving any particular enterprise. Vote yes.

24—Regulating Practice of Law. A contest for certain business between certain classes of lawyers and bankers. Involves dangerous infringement on freedom of press. A case of "too much government in business." Vote no.

25—Judges Pro-Tempore. Vote yes to correct certain abuses possible under present law chiefly by divorce lawyers.

26—School Districts. Permits union of school districts across county lines, where necessary. Vote yes.

27—Initiative. A dangerous attack on the principle of the initiative. Vote no.

28—Prohibiting Vivisection. The medical profession says the act would prohibit a number of very important laboratory practices which do not come at all within the ordinary conception of "cruelty to animals" and which are vitally necessary in modern medical practice. They maintain it would seriously cripple the public health service. If you believe in modern medical and surgical practice you will vote no. I am perfectly willing to allow other people to follow their own systems of healing, but do not fancy this interference with the medical system in which I believe.

29—Land Franchise Taxation. Extreme single tax doctrine. Vote no.

30—Franchises. Perhaps when I hear all about this one at tonight's meeting in the Woman's Club House I may be able to see through the fog on this one. Let's all go and hear the debate.—G. B. M.

You Are Buying A Paint Job—Not Merely Paint

WHEN painting your house, don't forget that you are buying the results of painting—decreased depreciation, fewer repairs, enhanced values—and not just paint.

Therefore it is most important to buy the paint that insures these results—the best paint.

It spreads more easily—saves labor cost. It covers a greater area per gallon than "cheap" paint.

But most important, the best paint serves many years longer than "cheap" paint. It assures better results at a lower "long-time" cost.

We have been making the best paints for 73 years—to meet the weather conditions in the West.

The best materials—PIONEER WHITE LEAD, pure linseed oil, pure zinc, and pure colors—are combined in Fuller's House Paints in scientifically exact proportions with long-time skill.

For and Against the Water and Power Act

RUDOLPH SPRECKELS
REPLIES TO CRITICS

Rudolph Spreckels in a statement issued Tuesday afternoon makes smashing reply to the charges brought by the power companies opposing the Water and Power Act, that his interest in the measure is that he has water rights which he proposes to sell to the state if the act be passed.

Spreckels announces that if the act be adopted, and the state finds it convenient to make use of his water rights, he will donate those rights to the state. He asks if the power companies will do the same with their water rights. Spreckels' statement follows:

"First they charge that the Water and Power Act is a Rudolph Spreckels measure, although the power companies and their representatives are aware that it originated two years ago at the convention of the League of California Municipalities held at Chico, California in 1920, at which a resolution was passed appointing a committee to draft a measure to be presented to the legislature placing state credit behind the conservation and development of the water and power resources of the state.

"Such a measure was drafted by this committee of the League of Municipalities and presented to the last legislature for adoption and was known as the Johnson Bill. The state senate adopted the measure by almost unanimous vote, but the power corporations' lobby succeeded in defeating it in the assembly by the narrow margin of four votes. After adjournment of the legislature, progressive members thereof, realizing the urgency of adopting legislation reserving to the people the remaining resources of the state drafted a measure to be presented to the voters by means of the initiative at the coming November election.

"It was not until then that I was consulted and asked to give an opinion concerning the financial and business problems involved. I suggested that the magnitude of the question deserved careful consideration at the hands of men and women familiar with the requirements of the state, and who have the ability to pass upon the legal, engineering, financial, business and political problems involved. An invitation was sent to progressive men and women throughout the state to gather in common counsel and prepare the measure which is now before the people as a constitutional amendment and will appear upon the ballot as Number 19.

"Power companies and their allies and hirelings are seeking to confuse the voters by gross misstatements in order to play upon the suspicion of the voters and to divert public attention from their own misconduct they have charged that I am supporting the act for the purpose of disposing of power sites and water rights owned by me on the lower Pitt River, while they remain silent concerning their own numerous filings throughout the state.

"Our opponents are very well aware that I am not in the utility field, and that my rights would, therefore, under this act be subject to immediate condemnation by the state and that I could not under those circumstances receive more than a reasonable value. As a matter of fact, if this act is adopted by the people and the state would find it advantageous to make use of my rights, I would be very glad to donate them to the state in order that the people of California might receive the benefit of my foresight in preserving those rights from the power corporations' grasping hands. Will the power companies follow my example?"

LYMAN M. KING
TALKS AGAINST ACT

"Some people may think that the Kings Tax Bill went to the limit in raising money by taxation in California, but if the people vote the Water and Power Act with its bond issue of $500,000,000, and with the accruing interest and sinking fund which must be paid every year, the man who frames the next tax bill will have to erect a skyscraper where I built only a bungalow," said Senator Lyman M. King, author of the King Tax Law and recognized as one of California's most studious economists, in addressing a mass meeting at Scottish Rite hall last night.

Senator King renounced any intention of discussing the proposed Water and Power Amendment to the Constitution, either for or against public or private ownership of public utilities. He objected to the amendment because it is loosely drafted and because it includes nearly all kinds of personal and private business and places them within the hands of a state commission which has power to take over the control of the mutual water and irrigation companies. These he said, are essentially private concerns and have been the predominating factor in developing the farm lands of California and creating the cities and towns which are scattered throughout the rural communities.

The senator explained that the measure was an amendment to the Constitution and not a statute, and that it could only be changed by another Constitutional amendment.

"The State Legislature," he said, "composed of senate and assembly, and its acts subject to veto by the governor elected by the people, can only vote $300,000 in one year as an appropriation. This constitutional amendment appropriates $500,000,000, the interest alone upon which, at 5 per cent, amounts to $25,000,000 with an annual sinking fund of $10,000,000."

Passing from point to point in his analysis of the amendment, the senator showed that the property which it is proposed to take over by the state and place in the hands of an appointive board, three of whom constitute a majority, would be taken out of taxation, and an equal amount of money would have to be assessed on the re-

Give the Kiddies Real Comfort This Winter

You'll be amazed to see how much Radiantfire heat will mean to your entire family in comfort, health and convenience.

When the youngsters come in chilled and shivering or with wet feet, it will warm and dry them in one minute.

On bleak winter mornings, they can dress in comfort before its cheery glow. And think of the enjoyment you will get from this beautiful open fire on chilly fall and winter evenings!

Radiantfire gives you instant warmth and leaves the air of the room fresh and cool for breathing. It means fewer colds—no more fussing to build fires and remove ashes. It burns gas at a cost of only three to four cents an hour and will at least save two tons of coal each winter.

See for yourself what a wonderful improvement this is over any heating device you have ever seen before.

Dinner Dance

Those who are planning to add their names to the list of those attending the dinner-dance on Friday evening, November 10, will take time by the fore-lock and secure reservations at once. Because of the popularity of this kind of social function, a large crowd is anticipated and table space is limited. Many ladies take advantage of this opportunity to return social obligations and are hostesses to numbers of friends. Much rivalry is always displayed in the elaborate decoration of tables and hostesses are allowed the privilege of furnishing and carrying out their own ideas of decoration. The Fletcher Orchestra will furnish music, and the dinner will be under the supervision of Mrs. F. B. Seeley, the Ways and Means chairman of the club. Make reservations with Mrs. W. R. Lees, green 79.

Friday Meeting

Following out its educational program, in an effort to bring to the voters of Sierra Madre reliable information pro and con, the various measures to be voted upon at the November 7 election, the club house will be thrown open again on Friday evening, November 3rd.

Both sides of the following measures will be heard. No. 14—Local Taxation; 15—State Taxation; 22—Absent Voters; 24—Regulating the Practice of Law; 25—Judges' Tempore; 30—Franchises. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock and the public is invited.

Hallowe'en Dance

The Hallowe'en Dance given by the Woman's Club at the clubhouse on Friday evening, October 27, was a very pretty and successful affair. The interior of the club house was brilliant, with attractive black and yellow decorations appropriate to the hallowe'en season. Many novel and beautiful costumes were in evidence.

Miss Eleanor Banye as Joan of Arc, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hill, as organ-grinder and monkey, and a stranger within our gates, dressed as a "big injun", received prizes for the best costumes. The hallowe'en idea was also carried out in the serving of unusual refreshments, in which Mrs. F. B. Seeley, under whose direction the dance was given, was assisted by Mrs. N. H. Goodenow, Mrs. T. H. Flather and Mrs. M. D. Welsher.

Fred Kehlet is now associated with Norm's Garage. He and Mrs. Kehlet, who was formerly Miss Alice Kellogg, together with their small son are residing for the present in Alhambra.

For and Against Water and Power

maining property in order to defray the expenses of government. He questioned the adequacy of $500,000,000 to do the job, calling attention to the fact that the development programs now being worked out and absolutely necessary to supply the electric demands of a growing community, amount to one billion dollars, exclusive of the present investment in electrical properties in the state. Calling attention to the loose manner in which the amendment is drawn and its manifest defects, which the corporations on behalf of their stock and bond holders would naturally attack, he said, it would be subject to almost interminable litigation, and if carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, as it undoubtedly would be, would protract litigation for at least ten years. During this time no financing of hydroelectric properties could continue and no money could be borrowed to carry on the development programs which will cost from 1923 on, approximately $100,000,000 per year. This would automatically result, he said, in a power shortage, such as menaced the country in the latter part of the war period, and which came near causing a state-wide calamity.

"If there are four members of your family," said Senator King, "it would amount to this, should the Water and Power Constitutional Amendment carry. You would find it would place a mortgage of $644.00 on your home. California has now a debt of $15.66 per capita, as compared with $6.47 per capita net debt in thirty-three other states, as shown by the latest available statistics. The bonded indebtedness of California is today greater than that of any other state, with the exception of New York and Massachusetts. If the Water and Power bonds of $500,000,000 were added to the present debt of California, the debt would represent over forty per cent of the aggregate debt of all the states in the union. Your individual per capita of this debt would be $161.57, a jump of $145.90 from your present per capita, and the sum per capita would apply to your wife, your child and your baby.

"If the state goes into the power business," said Senator King in conclusion, "from eight to ten years will be required to build up markets for the electricity that it would develop. During this period, little or no revenue could be expected, but interest and sinking fund would be accumulating while the slow and uncertain work of developing a market was being carried on. In the meantime the people would be obliged to pay taxes on an enormous accumulative investment, which had little or no earning power, and that is the kind of taxes that the Water and Power Act would impose upon you."

LAWYERS BILL AIMS TO FORCE FEES FROM PUBLIC

LAW WOULD DRIVE BUSINESS IN ATTORNEYS' OFFICES.

The Lawyers Bill, which will appear on the ballot as Proposition Number 24, is part of a national campaign by lawyers to legislate business into attorneys' offices, according to a statement issued by the Public Rights Committee of Northern California, an organization formed to oppose adoption of the bill at the November election. Representative business and professional men and realty boards presidents of Northern California comprise the committee, of which Marshall Hale, San Francisco merchant, is chairman.

Statements by proponents of the bill that only certain banks are opposed to the Lawyers Bill seem to be punctured by the fact that no bankers whatever are found among the members of the Public Rights Committee. The statement issued by the committee says:

"A certain class of lawyers is chiefly responsible for the type of legislation represented by this measure. These have been successful through their influence in the legislatures of a number of states in securing the enactment of similar legislation. Never, however, has the legislation been submitted to a vote of the people. That will be done for the first time when the Lawyers Bill is submitted to the people of California in November.

"The cause of this legislation in California was not the practices of certain trust companies, although the lawyers seek strenuously to show that the object of their bill is to curb certain of these practices, notably the drawing of wills. It may be said in reply to that argument that if this had been the real object of the legislation a simple bill might have been drawn for that purpose without arousing the widespread opposition that the present measure has encountered.

Fight for Patronage.

"As a matter of fact, and the evidence is incontrovertible, the lawyers responsible for this type of legislation want to go a great deal further than stop a few isolated cases of practices by trust companies to which they object. The basic object of the legislation is to prevent any corporation or individual from giving free any service for which an attorney might be employed and for which an attorney might charge a fee.

"In the growth of American business there has developed, in response to a public demand, a service on the part of financial and business institutions and a great variety of business agencies, which, if strictly interpreted, is a legal service. The growth of this kind of service is one reason why commercial law is taught in our schools, business colleges and universities. Practically in every line of business nowadays customers bring questions involving some simple point of business law and these are answered freely.

"Obviously if all business law matters, all the simple questions answered by business man and banker could be diverted to the offices of attorneys, the legal profession would be made more lucrative than it is at present. The Lawyers Bill would have that effect. It would be a bonanza for those lawyers who now, in their overcrowded profession, complain of lack of public patronage, giving them a monopoly of a knowledge of the law and a monopoly of the right to market that knowledge.

SPEED FINES MAY BE INVALIDATED

Hundreds of speeders' fines may have been collected illegally and numerous cases may be dismissed as a result of an investigation of the law and the decision by Superior Judge John W. Shenk in a test case.

Judge Shenk holds a man must be tried and fined in the township in which he is arrested.

The decision came in the case of Ted Thurston, who was fined $100 and sentenced to twenty days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Channing Follette for speeding sixty-four miles an hour on Washington boulevard. The territory in which Thurston was speeding was outside of Los Angeles township, in which Justice Follette presides.

Attorneys W. W. Judd and Stanley Visel appealed the case. Judge Shenk held that Justice Follette had no jurisdiction and reversed the case.

The decision will affect numerous cases brought in Los Angeles justice court where the offense was committed outside.

John Olsen, who is associated in business with Oswald Kehlet of McKittrick, formerly of Sierra Madre, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Olsen.

Mrs. E. A. Calvert and Mrs. S. M. Karicofe were hostesses at a hallowe'en party at the Karicofe home on Tuesday evening. About thirty-five girls and boys enjoyed hallowe'en games and appropriate refreshments which were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. H. Gwyn of East Laurel has been spending the week at the home of her sister in Long Beach.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman were Mrs. A. L. Sortor and daughter, Miss Margaret Sortor of Santa Ana.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Office of Comptroller of the Currency
Washington, D. C., September 25,

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The First National Bank of East San Gabriel," in the town of East San Gabriel in the County of Los Angeles and State of California has complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking;

Now Therefore, I, D. R. Crissinger, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The First National Bank of East San Gabriel" in the town of East San Gabriel in the County of Los Angeles and State of California, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in Section Fifty-one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In Testimony Whereof witness my hand and seal of office this twenty-fifth day of September, 1922.

(seal) D. R. CRISSINGER,
Comptroller of the Currency.

BAR ASSOCIATION INDORSEMENT GIVEN THESE CANDIDATES

For the information of the voters, few of whom may possess much knowledge concerning the fitness and qualifications of candidates for judges of the Superior Court, the Los Angeles County Bar Association, desires the voters to know the result of a vote taken by the lawyers of the whole county, July 29th, 1922 for the purpose of ascertaining which of the many candidates would receive the indorsement of the County Bar as best qualified. The result was as follows:

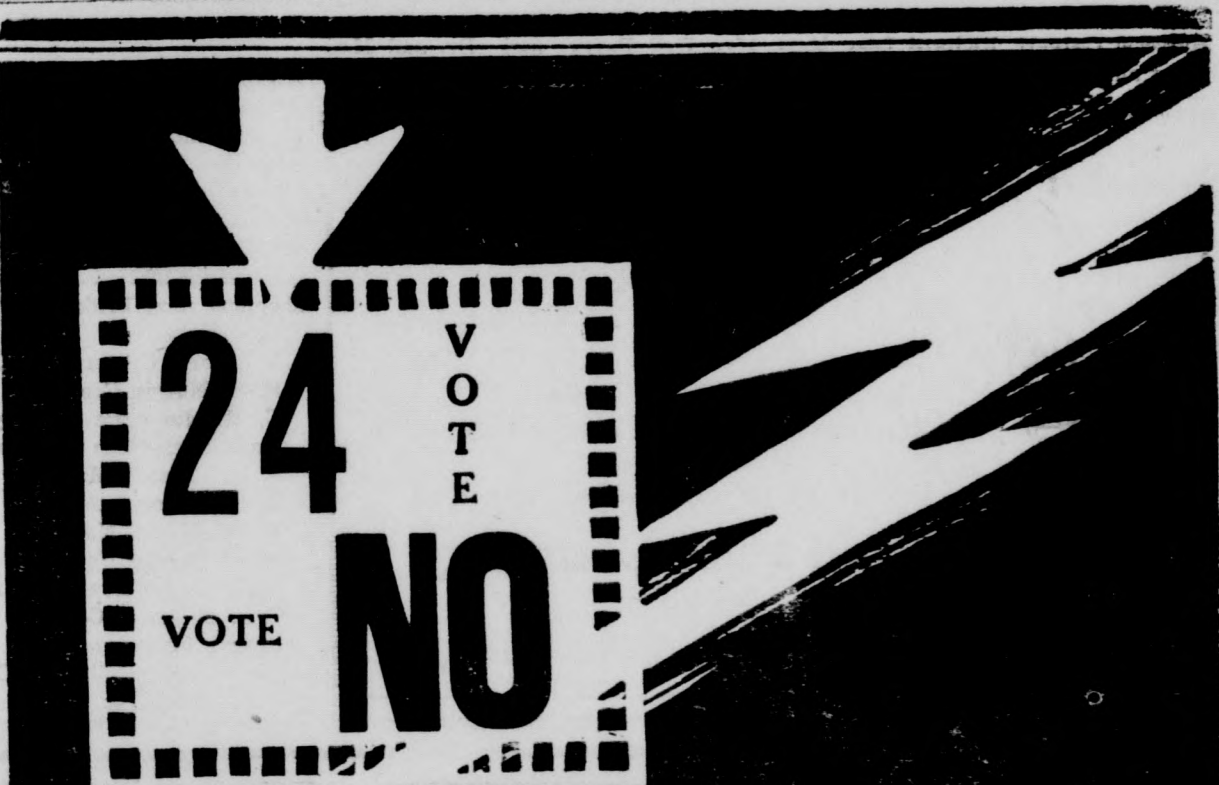

Victor R. McLucas, 1138; Edwin F. Hahn 1095; Thomas O. Toland, 1014; John Perry Wood, 919; J. W. Summerfield, 873; and Bertin A. Weyl, 805; the incumbents received the highest vote. Judges Summerfield and Wood were virtually elected at the August primaries and Judge Weyl is not now a candidate, so his name will not appear on the official ballot, November 7.

The other candidates balloted on were: Ruben S. Schmidt, 543; Ira F. Thompson, 397; William C. Doran, 328; Elliot Craig, 315; William J. O'Brien, 163; Lewis M. Powell, 155 and William T. Kendrick, Jr., 120.

FRANK JAMES, President,

Los Angeles County Bar Association.

GEORGE E. WALDO, Chairman
Committee on Nomination, Election and Appointment of Judicial Officers.

Now let the PEOPLE SPEAK

LAWYERS prepared a Bill, designed, planned, intended for one sole purpose: to cut the people off from sources of advice upon business matters in which matters of law are involved, except one source—GO TO A LAWYER and pay him a fee.

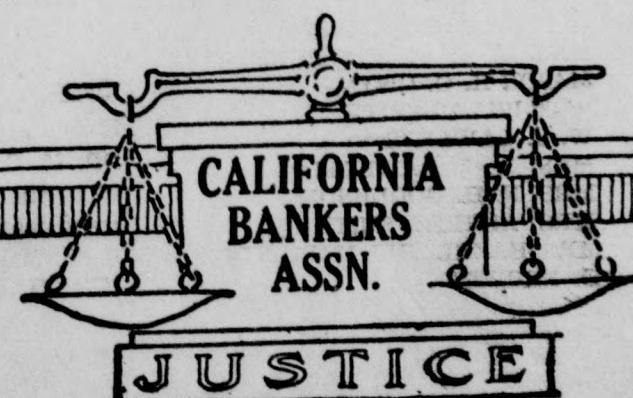

LAWYERS introduced it in the Legislature, LAWYER-politicians "pushed it through" to a LAWYER-governor, who signed it.

Now let the PEOPLE say whether they want government "By the lawyers, of the lawyers and for the lawyers."

If you want to PAY for it, vote for it.

If you want your banker, your employer, your business friend to feel free to make a practice, as he does now, of giving you practical advice on ordinary business law—without committing a CRIME—

INDIANA MAN ON SALES FORCE
B. C. Thurman, formerly of Frankfort, Ind., has been added to the sales force of the Sierra Madre Garage by Milton Steinberger. Mr. Thurman is a garage owner and Ford salesman of large experience. He is residing at 32 East Central, being a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heckathorne. He admits that California looks pretty good to him after a month's stay and that he may decide to give up his business interests in the East and remain here permanently.

NOTICE

I wish to announce that I have sold the business of the Myrdell Dairy to Forrest Owens and E. G. Hinshaw, who took possession November 1, 1922, and that I am no longer connected with the business. I thank my customers for past patronage and hope for a continuance of as pleasant relations with my successors.

A. U. WOODWARD.

CLOSES SUMMER MOUNTAIN WORK

Lindley M. Eddy has returned to his home on North Grove street after spending the summer at his photograph studio in the Giant Forest, in the High Sierras. Mr. Eddy has been the official photographer there for thirteen years and has a wonderful collection of pictures. He not only sells to tourists in the National Park and through dealers in the San Joaquin Valley towns, but has done a great deal of work for the government and for various magazine publications. He will spend the winter in Sierra Madre.

JUBILEE SINGERS NEXT MONDAY

The California Jubilee Singers, a well known organization of colored entertainers, will give an entertainment in the club house next Monday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the public school athletic fund. These men give high class programs and have appeared here annually for several years, always making a big hit. The school children are canvassing actively for the sale of tickets, as the proceeds from the entertainment mean a great deal to them in facilitating various school activities during the year.

GAS SHUT OFF SATURDAY P. M.

Patrons of the Southern Counties Gas Company are notified that gas will be shut off on Saturday, November 4, from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m.

This is necessary to effect connections of the new main which has been laid in Baldwin avenue during the last few days. The main will carry a much greater quantity of gas and insure greater regularity of supply in certain portions of the city which have built up very rapidly since the old mains were installed.

SAVE THE WATER AND POWER of California for Yourself and Children

Don't pay tribute to the power trust forever for water and power which belong to the public. Employees of the power companies working against No. 19 on the ballot, constitute a powerful and dangerous political machine which should be defeated. Public ownership of power and water utilities in California, in Ontario and many foreign countries is a proven success. Do not be frightened by misrepresentation of the use of $500,000,000 of state credit for sound business enterprises. For these and other reasons the following citizens of Sierra Madre urge you to
